County ok's casino offer on bond issue

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors accepted an offer from Casino Magic Tuesday which may lessen the bite of lost revenues, in exchange for support of a bond issue, not to exceed $100 million.

As a potential industrial revenue bond recipient, the casino will receive a 10-year tax exemption on a hotel and golf course planned for construction at the Bay Cove Marina gaming site.

The tax exemption does not apply to school taxes, of which Bay-Waveland School District will be the beneficiary.

Tax assessor Eddie Murtagh stated the Bay Cove Marina location was always part of the Bay-Waveland School District. Though the area was part of the county prior to annexation by the City of Bay St. Louis, it was never part of the county school district.

The corporation offered to pay the county five percent of ad valorem taxes that it would have received without an exemption.

The five percent estimate would be paid, per year, for the first five years; increased by five percent, per year, until the eleventh year, when the exemption would expire and full ad valorem taxation would take effect. The casino would pay a maximum of 30 percent in the 10th year of exemption.

By state law the gaming corporation can solicit support of the bond issue from either the state, the county or the city of location. The tax exemption is offered by state law as a incentive for industrial location.

Upon sale of the bonds, the property (hotel and

Supervisors reject raise

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Hancock County supervisors denied themselves a state allowed 10 percent raise Tuesday, citing the need to first give all employees an increase in salary.

District 1 supervisor Robert Peterson moved for approval of only those raises mandated by the state, excluding the board's own optional raise and increases for the county prosecuting attorney and coroner.

Board president Mike Lader asked Peterson if he feared public opinion, which he denied.

District 2 supervisor Alton

"Dolph" Kellar, in support of the raise, said in 1988 the board did not hesitate to give itself a state allowed 20 percent salary increase.

District 3 supervisor Howard Lizana said the board could approve the increase later in the year following an increase for other county employees.

Approved salary increases were:

—effective May 14, the sheriff, from $37,200 to $47,200;

—effective May 27, the tax assessor, from $40,900 to $44,340 (includes $3,000 for collection of city taxes and $3,500 for services as certified appraiser);

—and effective in October, justice court judges, from $21,600 to $23,760.

An increase for the court reporter was placed on hold. The court reporter's salary is divided between Hancock, Harrison and Stone counties. The increase is from $30,000 to $33,000.

Airport improvements

Miss. Transportation Dept. to match funds

BY LIZ HAAS

The Mississippi Department of Transportation (MDOT) will match half of the Port and Harbor Commission's share of a $120,000 federal grant for airport improvements.

Commission executive director Buz Olsen made the announcement to commission members Monday.

Stennis International Airport and Airpark was awarded a $104,000 grant in early May to install signs on runways and taxiways and to install fencing.

The grant is 90 percent federal funds to be matched by 10 percent from the commission, bringing the total to $120,000.

"Our portion of the grant is 10 percent, and MDOT has committed to match half of what we raise," said Olsen.

Commissioner Joe McCullough, utilities committee chairman, introduced a plan to install an additional chlorination system at the Stennis water system that would cost approximately $10,000.

The water system was issued a water contamination violation in April.

The problem is the chlorinated water fills the tank, sits there because there are not enough users for the 250,000-gallon tank and loses its chlorination.

Commission sanitation inspector Zoe Bretzius-Bowers has flushed the tank and used other methods in order to get clear readings. May readings were clear.

"The Health Department results of samples for this month (June) were OK for Stennis and Port Bienville," said Bretzius-Bowers.

"Flushing doesn't correct the problem," said commission engineer Carlos Cordon. "We can't afford not to have this new chlorination system."

"With the addition of this new system, the water will come out of the ground, be chlorinated on the way up the tower and on demand, will be freshly chlorinated before use," said Bretzius-Bowers.

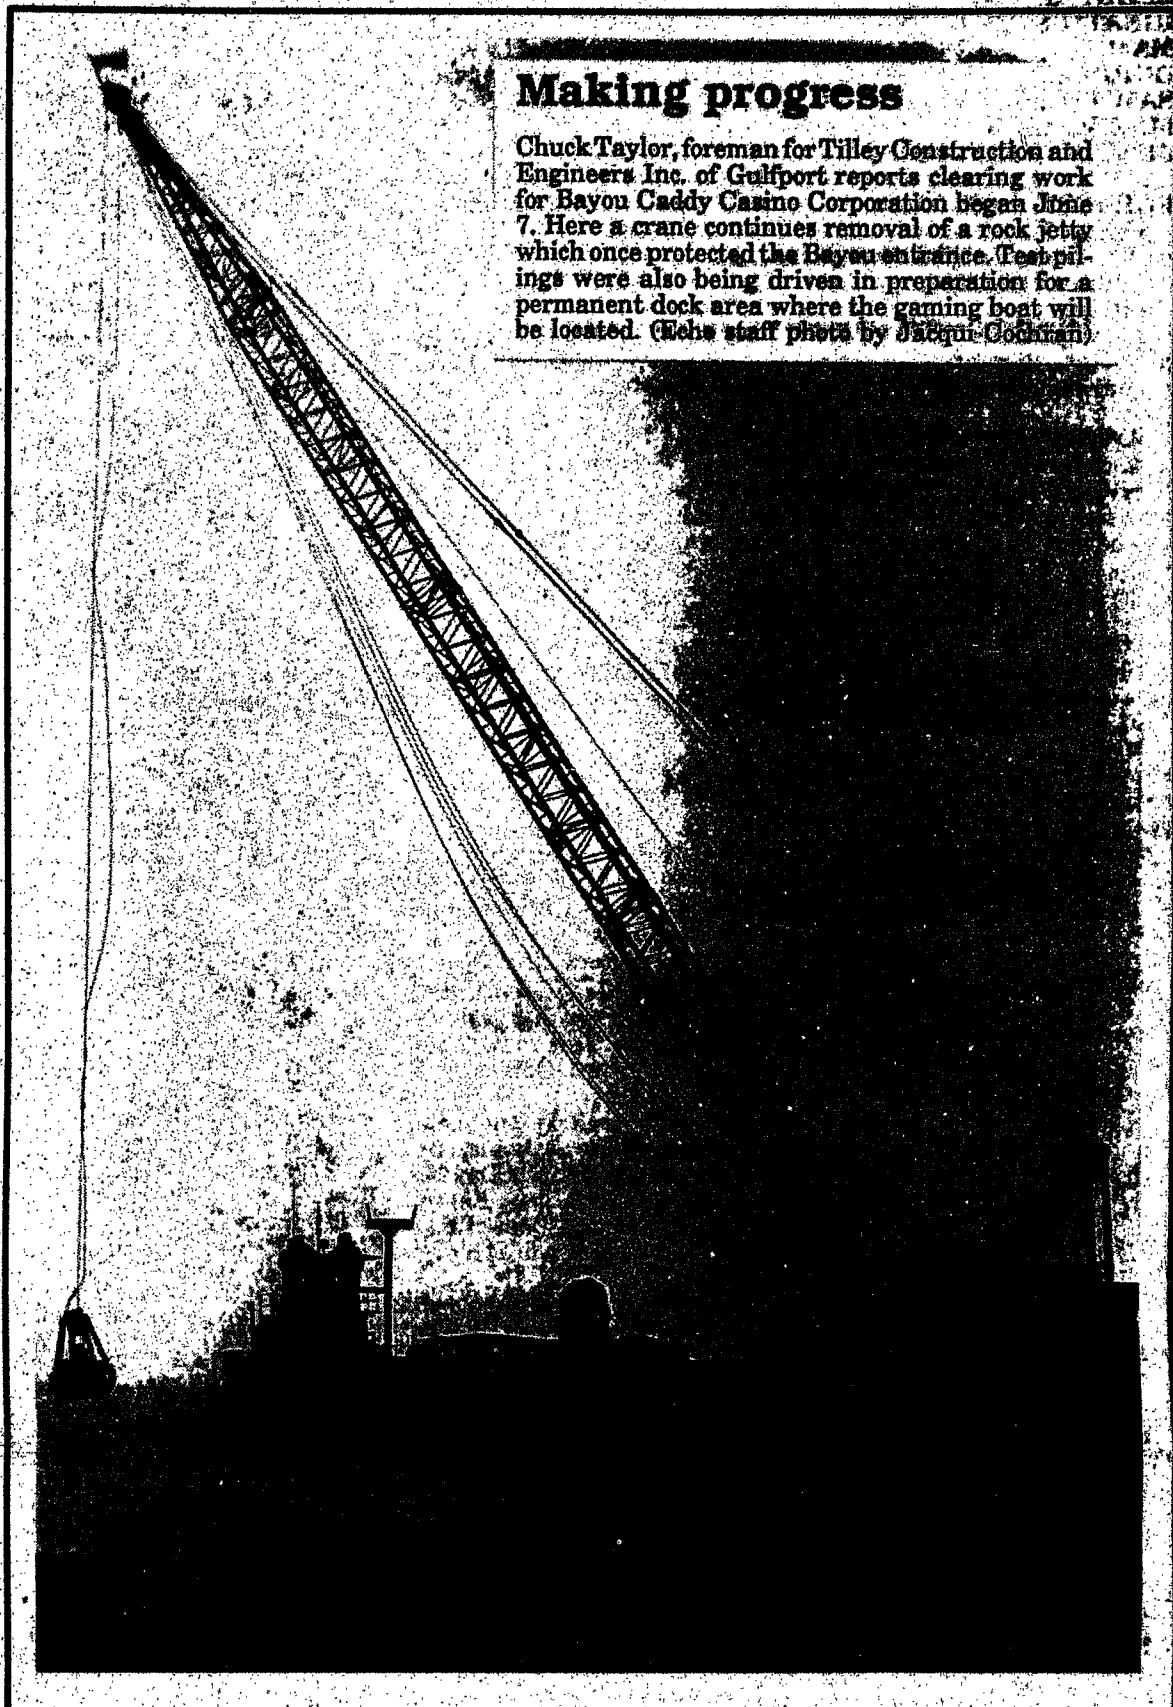

"This is what we consider the most feasible and cost-effective plan," said Cordon.

Life in space

Delous Smith, NASA's John C. Stennis Space Center exhibits specialist, talked to a crowd of children at the City-County Library in Bay St. Louis Wednesday on what life is like in space. Some of the topics discussed were what astronauts eat, how they eat, how they sleep and how they use the restroom and bathe. The children were shown a tape called, "The Boy from Mars." Above, an adult volunteer from the audience helps Smith demonstrate how to wear a space suit. (Echo staff photo by Liz Haas)

Making progress

Chuck Taylor, foreman for Tilley Construction and Engineers Inc. of Gulfport reports clearing work for Bayou Caddy Casino Corporation began June 7. Here a crane continues removal of a rock jetty which once protected the Bayou entrance. Test pilings were also being driven in preparation for a permanent dock area where the gaming boat will be located. (Echo staff photo by Jacquie Cochran)

Bay-Waveland approves non-certified pay raises

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

The Bay-Waveland School Board Monday approved 30 cents per hour raises for all non-certified employees.

Custodian and maintenance helpers were given an additional 41 cents, boosting their salaries to a starting point of $5.30 per hour.

Along with the raises, all non-certified personnel pay scales were extended to 20 years. Prior to this, yearly raises were given up to nine years for cooks; 14 years for teacher assistants (para professionals), custodians, maintenance and maintenance helpers; and 20 years for secretarial workers.

Monies designated for the raises were budgeted from increased ad valorem revenues anticipated by the addition of the Casino Magic gaming facility to the 1993 tax rolls.

COMPUTERS

Bids for a network of computers were rejected upon lack of funding Monday.

The system would have placed a Chapter I computer laboratory in each school and a computer in each classroom.

The cost would have been spread over a five-year lease/purchase plan, costing the district an estimated $135,000 the first year and $90,000 the remaining four years. Chapter I would have leased time on the computer reimbursing the dis-

Hancock Justice Facility maintains 30:1 guard ratio

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Warden Gerald Necaise reported the Hancock County Justice Facility maintains a 30 to 1 ratio between prisoners and guards. Tuesday, he said there were 81 prisoners incarcerated within the facility.

"We will have a minimum of three guards working," Necaise stated.

He explained while one guard works the main desk on the ground floor, two others work the floor and control room of the top or "lock-down" floor.

Sheriff Ronnie Peterson stated, "I've always said the two things you need to properly operate a jail are an adequate and well-trained staff."

Peterson commented that to his knowledge the Hancock facility has never had an escape, although they have had a few trustees walk off.

"We have had very little problems in our jail system," he added. "Maybe we could go with one more guard per shift, but I feel we have enough guard personnel now."

"The Harrison County jail was unusually understaffed. I have been very satisfied with the 1 to 30 ratio."

Sunday, Donald Leroy Evans, accused murderer of 10-year-old Beatrice Louise Routh, escaped from the Harrison County jail with three other inmates after overpowering one of seven guards left in charge of 530 prisoners.

McCullough recommended the commission approve for plans and specifications to be drawn up by Cordon and Bretzius-Bowers and brought to the commission for final approval at the next meeting.

Olsen requested the utilities committee do a study of rates for Port Bienville water and sewer utilities, with a possible increase set for the next fiscal year, starting October 1, 1993. "We've increased expenditures out there with water and sewage and have not adjusted the rates. I think it's time we look at rate increases," said

Olsen.

Olsen reported Calgon Road, paved over a year ago, needs repairs because the present condition of the road is hindering truck traffic.

The commission approved a resolution authorizing Cordon to work with Necaise Construction, presently doing construction to the main roads at the Port Bienville Industrial Park, on adjusting their contract to do the repair work on Calgon Road under the present contract.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Have you noticed how nice the light poles look along the median on Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis?

I have been asked several times in recent days when the lights would be turned on along the highway.

As I travel the highway during the day, I see workmen making connections at the base of the poles. The wire still needs to be pulled through the conduit for many of the poles.

According to Bay St. Louis City Hall, it will be another two weeks or so before the lights will be turned on.

I cannot wait to see how they will look at night when the lights are energized.

I am hoping there will be a big ceremony for turning the switch on.

The possibility of an industry locating at the old Army Ammunition Plant at the John C. Stennis Space Center gives a glimmer of hope.

The industry, Chemtex Corporation of Houston, Texas has applied for air quality permits from the state for the production of sodium azide.

The industry would use only a section of the facility at the Ammo Plant if it meets environmental standards and an agreement can be reached.

This would mean an additional 50 persons employed to start.

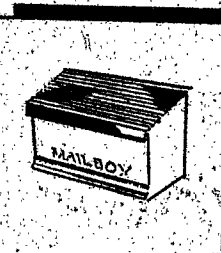

We are told that azide is a substance used in the manufacture of automobile air bags.

I know United States Representative Gene Taylor has devoted a lot of energy in trying to bring industry to the Ammo Plant in order to create more jobs for the area.

Many residents and visitors to the area like to visit the beach and 'take in' the sun.

This has been popular as long as I can remember. Sun bathers should be cautious and make sure they use proper sun screens, as sunburns can be dangerous.

Researchers report that sun rays can cause cancer, so I hope all swimmers and sun bathers take proper precautions.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Address beachfront traffic before more injuries occur

To the Editor:

We would like to know what it is going to take to get something done to correct the problems on our Beach Road in Hancock County.

After two very serious accidents (referring to the two children hit by cars) in less than a month, is it going to take someone getting killed for something to get done to correct the situation... or will that even do it?

There has been discussion for years about who is responsible for the Hancock County beaches. We hope that the talk will stop and some action will be taken before it is too late.

Neither one of the two accidents in the last month would have occurred if there would have been parking bays and a bike trail (wishes of the citizens for years) on the right side of the road, like the Harrison County beaches. We've all heard the old saying 'never two without three.'

This concern has really weighed heavy on our hearts because we have two children and just can't imagine the pain those children and their families must be going through. We are keeping them all in our prayers. It scares us to know it could happen to our children.

With gaming revenues the beach roads should be one of our top priorities. Please, let's take action now before another accident happens.

FROM THE SENATE

By Senator Trent Lott

Prayer, religion and schools

The U.S. Supreme Court has taken, in my opinion, two very big steps in the right direction on the issues of school prayer and use of public school facilities by religious groups.

The court's first ruling states that if schools are open to community groups after hours, then they also must be open to religious groups as well. I think that was the correct decision. And, frankly, I'm amazed that this question had to go all the way to the Supreme Court to be resolved.

The court said that its ruling does not violate separation of church and state as stated in the U.S. Constitution.

In their second ruling, the Supreme Court justices, without comment, let stand a federal appeals court ruling that allows student-led prayers during graduation ceremonies in public schools.

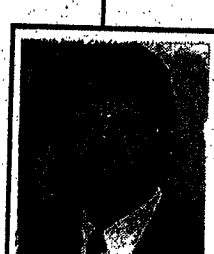

At the end of last year, the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals approved the policy of a Texas school district near Houston to allow graduation prayers as long as a majority of the graduating students want it. The court ruled that the prayer must be given by a student volunteer.

The Fifth Circuit Court ruling only applies to the states within that circuit—Mississippi, Texas and Louisiana. However, it could very well set a precedent for similar cases in other states since the Supreme Court allowed the ruling to stand.

Both of these rulings are evidence of the impact moderate and conservative Supreme Court appointees are having on the laws of this nation. And, both rulings are fair, long overdue and victories for all Americans.

Every time that the U.S. Senate goes into session, we begin with prayer. It might be a Southern Baptist minister, a Jewish rabbi or a Greek Orthodox priest who delivers the invocation, but we begin our day with prayer.

Surely our children should have that same right in our schools. Separation of church and state should never have been interpreted to require a complete ban on practicing religious freedom at government facilities. I am glad that the Supreme Court has taken these steps and am hopeful that other courts and future decisions continue to protect the religious freedoms of all Americans.

IN CONGRESS

By Rep. Gene Taylor

Federal prison work programs should be expanded

Every week it seems as if some state around the country or the federal government releases an alarming statistic concerning our rising prison inmate population.

With most of our federal and state prisons pushed to the edge, some federal prison officials will tell you a record is set in the United States almost every day. With more than 1.1 million inmates, and a 30 percent increase expected by 1995, prison inmate population has and continues to reach unprecedented heights.

At this time no money has been authorized for additional prison construction to alleviate some of the overcrowding and I don't expect to see any in the near future. Because of our shrinking federal resources it is imperative that Congress find an innovative way of rehabilitating prisoners so they don't continue to pass through the revolving door from prison to freedom and back again.

That is why I have recently cosponsored a federal work program that, if passed, would be a win-win for everyone. The Prison Inmate Training and Rehabilitation Act would establish pilot programs within the Federal Prison Industries (FPI) to work with American companies to produce goods not otherwise manufactured in the United States.

When you give an inmate work they often leave prison with higher self-esteem and morale. Also, if a sense of responsibility and accomplishment has been instilled in an inmate they are less likely to be locked up again. And most importantly, the former inmate who has developed a marketable skill is more likely to find a job.

Additionally, the funds from the sale of goods produced by the inmates can be used to offset the costs of inmates' incarceration and repay their victims.

It is a well known fact that prisoners who are allowed to better themselves reduce the burden of crime on the American taxpayer and are better able to repay restitution. I agree that work programs should be encouraged all over the country as a means to rehabilitate convicted criminals and to reduce the taxpayers' burden.

Inmates would provide only those goods and services that are provided by foreign countries. Furthermore, domestic labor would in no way be threatened by the program. As a matter of fact, it is hopeful that the concept will encourage American economic growth by creating jobs lost years ago to foreign competitors.

Over a few years, the program could turn back millions of dollars to the U.S. Treasury. Without this program of inmate

Lt. governor trying to disrupt Democratic Caucus

Ever since some 30 Democratic members of the state Senate in March organized the first Democratic Caucus in the Mississippi Legislature, Republican Lt. Gov. Eddie Briggs has been desperately trying to erect booby-traps to keep the caucus from wresting away his control of the Senate.

His latest piece of strategy is to create a large Senate special committee, made up of chairmen and vice-chairmen of the major Senate standing committees which handle most of the legislation that comes through the Senate.

The special Senate committee, which Briggs says will be a Senate adjunct of MAP (Mississippi Action Plan), an economic strategy group Briggs helped organize, made of state agency heads, private sector leaders and university presidents, includes 28 of the 52 members of the Senate.

That's roughly the same proportional majority which the Senate Democratic Caucus represents of the total Senate membership.

Briggs called a meeting of his Senate MAP committee for Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning of this week, to be briefed by some of the Mississippi Action Plan members on possible economic and educational strategies.

His announcement letter said other members of the Senate were welcome to attend the briefings, but only the 28 senators designated by him would be approved for per diem and expenses.

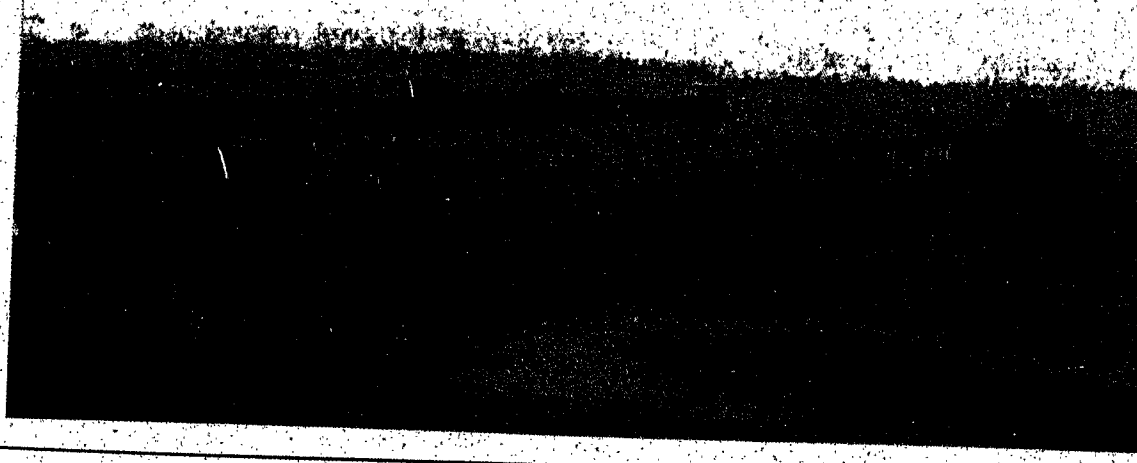

Somehow, Briggs who was removed as chairman of the Rules Committee under a Senate rules change last year, has now pre-empted the role of Senate contingent expenses chairman, a spot through which requests for all in-state travel and per diem for senators to attend meetings of their standing committee must be approved.

Briggs angered veteran Sen. Tommy Gollott of Biloxi awhile back when he disapproved Gollott's request for his Economic Development committee to hold a meeting at the Capitol and be paid per diem and travel.

It was going to meet the same

Do you have any suggestions on how municipalities can aide in the reduction of beach front related accidents?

"Other than crosswalk guards, no, it's just congested. It's hard because you are depending on people being responsible. Possibly they could hire a crossing guard for crowded areas along the beach and parks."

"It's the parents responsibility to keep control of the kids. I don't see any way for the cities to help, other than through the creation of some pedestrian crossings. The cities could then give tickets to those people who would refuse walkway use."

Waveland Fire Department hosts Junior Firefighter Mini-Camp

Chief David Garcia of the Waveland Fire Department announced his department will sponsor Part II of the Summer Lifesaving Program by hosting a two-day summer camp for all youths, 6 to 15 years of age, at the Waveland Central Station, free of charge. Pre-registration will be required.

The mini-camp is designed to give area youth a different summer-type activity since school is out. This is the first program of this type to be offered for youths to be part of their fire department for two days, learn the techniques of firefighting skills and fire safety education.

Participants will have the opportunity to inspect and assist firefighters in the inventory of the fire apparatuses.

The mini-camp will teach techniques including practicing exit drills in the home, drawing home escape plans, searching for hazards in the home, reporting fires, using 911 for emergencies, basic first aid, and tour of the fire stations. Fun activities will include group competition on bucket brigade, fire hoses and knot tying.

The following educational films will be viewed by the children: "Smoke Detection," "E.D.I.T.H.," (Exit Drill In The House), and "Donald Duck Survival." Other fun activities are planned.

Garcia stated each youth will have the opportunity to be fingerprinted by the Waveland Police Department and will receive a copy of this record; also, bicycle and pedestrian safety will be taught by Waveland policemen.

The junior firefighter mini-camp will be July 14-15, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Additional information may be obtained from Garcia or Lt. Mike Smith at 467-2042.

Garcia said the program will be a yearly event, and he hopes to add three days next year to make it a five-day program.

Garcia stated Project Lifesaver Part I was a success with participation throughout the community. CPR and the Heimlich maneuver were taught to adults. CPR instruction is available by calling Smith at the Waveland Fire Department to schedule a class, free of charge.

BHS field house named after patron

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
The Bay High School athletic field house received a new name Monday.

Board members approved there-naming of the building after J.E. Loiacano Jr., former professional football player, who coached at Bay High for four years.

He later coached an additional four years at Gulfport High School and served as strength coach at Mississippi State University before returning to his hometown to operate Loiacano's Health Club.

Board secretary David Turcotte said Loiacano's leadership and hard work in raising the funds for the building deserve recognition.

Turcotte added former members of the Bay High Athletic Club had approached him concerning recognition of Loiacano's continuous work in support of Bay High athletic programs.

ON PATROL

SYRINGE FOUND IN PEPSI CAN

At approximately 11:30 p.m. Monday Robert McDowell of Catahoula community allegedly discovered a syringe in a Pepsi can while leaving Dolly's Quick Stop in Kiln, according to Sheriff Ronnie Peterson.

There have been complaints in several states of syringes and needles in Pepsi, Diet Pepsi and Caffeine Free Diet Pepsi cans. McDowell filed a complaint with the Hancock County Sheriff's Office.

"McDowell said after he paid for the three Pepsi cans from Dolly's Quick Stop, he opened one to drink as he was walking out of the store.

"When he went to drink it, he said something singed his tongue and it was noticeable there was something in the can," said Peterson.

Peterson said McDowell brought the can to the clerk who removed a hypodermic needle from it with a pair of scissors.

The Sheriff's office, in possession of the needle and can, has been investigating the matter with the Food and Drug Administration (FDA).

"We plan to turn over the evidence to the FDA, and feel sure they will do a thorough investigation of the matter," said Peterson.

"Our investigation is centered around whether this is a factual case or not," reported Peterson.

Peterson said shortly after this, McDowell complained of nausea and feeling very nervous. He went to the emergency room at Hancock Medical Center and saw his regular physician the next day.

"He is consistent about his story, but there are some conflicting statements from some of the witnesses as to what may have happened," said Peterson.

Officer Norma Willett was on the scene. Sheriff Ronnie Peterson and Chief Deputy Delbert Seay are investigating the case.

Input needed on shorter school day

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Parental input on a proposal to change afternoon dismissal times this coming year for Bay-Waveland School District students is still needed, superintendent Paul Tisdale reported. The proposal is to dismiss all elementary and middle school children at 2:30 p.m., reducing the school day by a half-hour. The junior/senior high school students may be dismissed at the regular time of 3 p.m. or 3:05, extending the day by five minutes. The intent is to provide less time on the bus per student, separate age groups for discipline purposes, and increase driver availability.

Elementary and middle school children would be bused home first. As buses complete the elementary routes, they would travel to Bay High to assist with transportation of the older students.

Tisdale said one foreseeable problem is older students responsible for the care of their younger siblings after school, who would arrive home after the younger children—causing a supervision problem for working parents.

An advantage would be, no child would ride the school bus longer than 30-35 minutes.

The proposal would not affect morning routes.

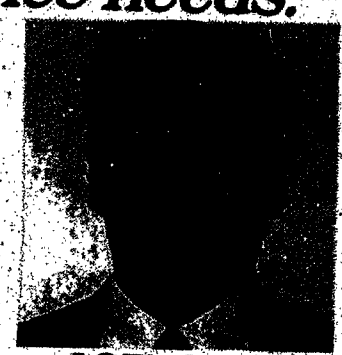

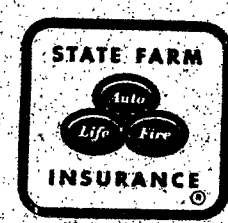

Tisdale commented, "We are at the preliminary stage and want to be sure of all parental concerns. Those concerns will determine whether or not to pursue transportation changes."

The superintendent asked that parents submit comments and suggestions in writing concerning the proposal, as soon as possible.

Comments should include name and phone number and be mailed to The Bay-Waveland School District, 201 Carroll Avenue, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520; or hand delivered to the district office.

Don't forget to make the next meeting on Thursday, June 24, 8 a.m. at the Diamondhead Day's Inn. Congratulations to the new proprietors of the Diamondhead Yacht Club, Patrick and Sonja Jordan and chef Rick Aruffo, who hosted our last meeting.

DIAMONDHEAD SENIORS

Calling all senior citizens to bring neighbors and friends to join Angelle, Gladys, Bernie, Inez and Eleanor at the Bay St. Louis Senior Citizens Center every Friday.

There's lots to do, and a nice hot lunch is served. The bus picks up at the Diamondhead Dairy Queen at 8:30 a.m., returning there about 1:15 p.m. Come on out and pass a good time.

ATTENTION, DIAMONDHEAD GOLFERS

Dan Nelson needs your help! He has been director of the St. Stanislaus Alumni and Friends golf tournament and has worked to promote the junior golf program there for five years.

This year the SSC golf team won the division for the first time ever and went to the state championships.

Dan, golf coach Chuck Genin, several alumni and friends started a booster club to benefit the golf team.

Their objective is to collect golf clubs, bags, pull carts, bag stands, golf balls, etc. Some of these items will be used by the younger golfers who do not have any equipment.

Any excess equipment will be refurbished and sold to raise money for the golf team. They are needing 30 or more sets and will pick up at your convenience. Your donations are tax deductible.

Check out your garage and attics, guys, and give Dan a call at 255-3034. Anyone in the Bay area wishing to donate golf items, please call John Heath, 467-3766 or Chuck Genin at 467-9781.

Booster Club membership is $5 per year. Golf item donors are automatic members. We can all help these youngsters to get out on the course.

DIAMONDHEAD ACADEMY HAPPENINGS

A wonderful "secret" unfolded in the beautiful multipurpose auditorium at Diamondhead Academy last Friday evening June 14.

The invitation read "Celebration," and that it was, and a "night to remember" for Cal Rogers, principal of the school.

It was a "This Is Your Life" for Cal, who was surprised by her daughters Marcia Nelson and Lynn Farrington from California, Becky Nesbit and first favorite son-in-law Duncan from North Carolina, and dear old friends of 40 more years, the C. B. Kecks from Vero Beach, Fla.

Delightful musical and poetic entertainment was provided by Diamondhead music teacher Marty Wheeler and James LeBaton, poet, singer, dramatic actor and reader, well known in the Gulf Coast's dramatic circles.

Joan Cotter, former Diamondhead resident and academy board member, was mistress of ceremonies and did a great job of keeping Cal in suspense as she introduced Carolyn Simmons, Academy office manager, Jennifer Ewing, head teacher at the school, and good friend Alice Little of "Little Bits" of Diamondhead news, who spoke of some of their memorable moments regarding Cal over the years.

A special contribution to the program was a poem written by Mary Ann Manchester, a former co-worker of Cal's, recited by Mrs. Cotter.

The Rev. Barry Cotter asked all in attendance to join him in prayer for the occasion.

At the conclusion a plaque was unveiled, naming the new auditorium "Roger's Hall."

Me thinks this nice lady is so very deserving of all of this praise and wish her well as she starts another school year at Diamondhead Academy.

Vivian Kelly and all the others responsible for the marvelous food and champagne reception following the tribute, congratulations for such a good job well done. And, Mary and George Casis, what would this community do without such wonderful folks as you? You've done it again, and we're all so very grateful. Thank you!

Community Service Award presented to Bro. Canisius

Brother Canisius Schell, SC of St. Stanislaus was awarded the Community Service Recognition Award by Modern Woodmen of America Camp 16405 at its May meeting.

The award is presented annually to a person who exemplifies service to community and neighbor.

Brother Canisius has been the motivating force behind 'Project Do' for the past decade. Project Do channels the talents and enthusiasm of high school students in working with handicapped youngsters. He also uses his time in working with missions.

"A very humble man, Brother Canisius takes very little credit for the seeds of service he has planted. However, he glows when he talks about all the young people with whom he has worked. It is in their activities and growth that he takes so much pride," stated an organization spokesman.

In accepting the award, he accepted it for all the young people who have given their time in helping others.

Bay Thunder

Semi-pro baseball team boasts 4-0 record

BY JANET MCQUEEN
A newly organized semi-professional baseball team coached by volunteer Andy Elkins is giving young players an opportunity to be seen by area scouts.

"This area does not provide a lot of exposure for the kids," said Elkins. "My idea was to give them a chance to be scouted by junior colleges, colleges and professional teams."

Elkins, a former baseball manager at the University of Alabama, has been a volunteer coach at St. Stanislaus for the past several seasons.

The team, composed of high school and college players, uses Bay High's baseball stadium for home games.

In an opening doubleheader, the Bay Thunder swept Mandeville (La.) Legion 5-4, 12-2.

Those wins were followed by a 12-2 victory over Poplarville 12-2 and Gulf Coast Stars 4-0 on Tuesday.

Tuesday night John Buckley was the winning pitcher with Terrell LaFontaine picking up a save. John Bishop hit his second homerun, while Bryce Gex had two hits.

FISHIN' Y'ALL

By Jim Maness

It's time to go fishin' y'all. After awhile it is going to get hot in the great outdoors. This past week has given us a glance of what is to come later on in the summer.

What the heat does mean is that the fishin' conditions have now changed from spring to summer. This will require that we rethink the hows and whys of fishin' for the next few months.

Summer fishin' means that we gotta' do our fishin' early in the shallow water areas such as the surf. That is because the water will get hot faster in the shallow water earlier in the mornings.

The warmer the water becomes, the less oxygen it contains. Now the amount of oxygen in the water is only important if you expect to catch live fish. On the other hand, the best way to catch dead fish is to fish in the seafood market.

I wonder if they will let you fish in the ice-a-box in the seafood market. I bet it would be a lot cooler than it is outside nowadays.

It seems that turtles have a bad tendency to get distracted from the subject at hand.

Let's see, I think we were discussing the temperature of the water and how it affects where we fish and what time is the best time to fish.

The best time to fish the surf or any shallow water is early in the morning or right before sunset. The reason for early in the morning is obvious, but it might not be so obvious that right before sunset is a good time to fish the shallow water areas.

The reason for this is that the fish want something to eat right before they go to bed. I know that this sounds like a good reason, but it is not the best reason for fishing late in the evening.

The best reason is that right before sunset the wind tends to die down and the water gets real calm. When the water gets real calm, the bait fish tend to form up in schools, supposedly for self protection. You now safety in numbers and all that kind of stuff.

I know it is not necessary to tell you this, but if you see all of this activity in the water, you might wanna try a cast or two into this area. A word of warning, I would only cast into this area if you intend to catch a trout.

So much for the time of day to at night on the pier. He caught one gaff top cat that went about 13 pounds and two black tip sharks the other night.

He claims that the black tip sharks took him about 30 minutes each to land. He uses a big deep sea outfit with a 130-pound test line to catch his trophies. The bait he uses is cut eel.

Michael has an interesting type of bait that he uses to catch the eels. He uses dead shrimp that he sets out in the air for several hours. He claims that this gives the shrimp just the right "bouquet" to make the eels go bonkers for his hook. He did not tell me if his parents allow him to take this bait back home when he finishes with his fishing trip.

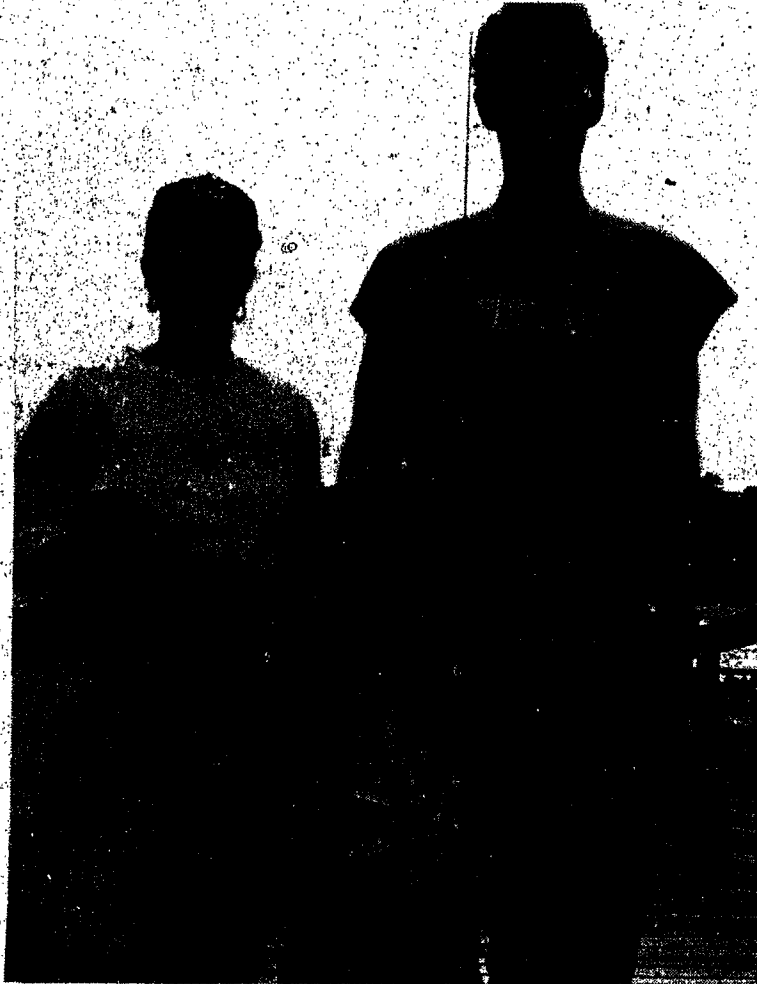

Bill McDaniel learned that those pointed objects that stick out of the sides and the top of hardhead catfish make you discuss topics that you would not normally discuss when they stick into your hand.

Beau Burchfield, 6, son of Janet and Nelson Burchfield, caught his first croaker right off Mr. Herbie's Corner this past week. I personally measured the fish. It was every bit of three and one half inches long. That did not matter to Beau. The way he showed it off, you were positive it was at least world record size — at least in the eyes of Beau.

Live bait is available at Sylvester's in Henderson Point, Jimmy Dian's in Pass Christian, Bordages (cachaques and shrimp) in Lakeshore, and LaFrance's in Ansley.

This week's wonderful wise words: Bring mucho plenty water and liquids with you when you go fishin'.

Are you supposed to use the green bait when you fish for dead fish in the fish market, Turtle?

Janet, Beau and Nelson Burchfield

This means that the trout can see these schools of bait fish and they go into a feeding frenzy. You should then be able to easily locate the feeding trout by the splashes in the water and the bait fish going crazy.

fish in shallow water. Now I gotta tell you about the activity out on Ladner's pier in Waveland.

Michael Smith, 13, a student at Bay High, has been doing great fishing late evening and fish must be caught in Mississippi, Louisiana or federal waters, and an affidavit signed by the entrant with its weight attested by another person.

The following types of fish are included: bass, catfish, croaker, drum, flounder, king mackerel, red fish, red snapper, sheepshead, white trout, speckled trout, jack and shark.

Awards will be given to the three largest fish in each category and will be presented on Nov. 21 at the Elks Lodge.

Winners do not have to be present to win; however, drawings will be made for cash prizes and other door prizes for which entrants must be present to collect.

The Elks Lodge is new to the community, being less than one year old. As with all Elks Lodges, No. 2776 plans to be involved in community matters and in particular with youth and veterans matters.

A national "hoop shoot contest" and "drug awareness program" will be among programs to be initiated in the near future. Any profits from the rodeo will be used to finance these and other community projects.

At present the local Lodge has in excess of 100 members. To enter, contact any member or call 466-3929; 452-3037; 452-3607; 467-1276 or 467-1372.

Tickets are also available at Guy's Brake and Alignment on Hwy. 90 and at LaFrance Fishing Camp on Ansley Road.

Elks to sponsor fishing rodeo

The Bay-Waveland Elks Lodge No. 2776 will sponsor an honor-type fishing rodeo that extends from June 1 through November 8.

The rodeo is open to everyone at a cost of $2 per entry, which is good for the entire period. The

Shrimping licenses on sale

Shrimping licenses are on sale in three locations along the Coast.

Licenses will be sold at the Bureau of Marine Resources Office in Biloxi at 2520 Beach Blvd., Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Shrimping licenses will be sold seven days a week at Jimmy Dian Bait Camp, 840 Clark, Pass Christian; and at Fisherman's Corner, 700 Bayou Cambest Road, Pascagoula.

Jimmy Dian will be open for license sale 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Fisherman's Corner will be open 8-11 a.m. and 7-10 p.m. Shrimpers wishing to avoid long lines at any of the above locations should purchase their licenses as soon as possible.

Cost of a recreational shrimp license for Mississippi residents is $15.

Costs for resident commercial shrimp licenses are: $50 for a vessel under 30 feet in length; $75 for a 30-45 foot vessel; and $100 for a vessel more than 45 feet long.

Costs of recreational and commercial shrimp licenses for out-of-state residents vary and are determined by the cost a Mississippi fisherman has to pay for a shrimp license in each respective state.

OLA/SJA Alumnae Association begun

The school board and administration of Our Lady Academy have formed a joint Alumnae Association with the graduates of OLA and St. Joseph Academy.

"We would like to recognize the tradition of the solid educational program maintained by St. Joseph Academy for young women in Bay St. Louis," said Sister Donella Hartman RSM, principal of OLA.

The first formal induction of OLA graduates into an Alumnae Association was held in 1989 by Sister Jacqueline Howard RSM, former principal of OLA.

At the alumnae induction and awards ceremony held in May, members of the Classes of 1920, 1923, 1933 and 1943 of St. Joseph Academy and OLA's Class of 1993 were recognized and given certificates. At the graduation liturgy, when the seniors of OLA received their diplomas, plaques were awarded to the SJA graduates of these years.

Present at both occasions were Margaret Heitzmann Dambrino, '23; Catharine Scaife Matherne, '33; and Dorothy Anne Besaucon Murphy, '43.

The oldest SJA alumna recognized was Margaret Green Otis from the Class of 1920. The other alumna from the Class of 1933 is Joyce Wolf Daspit.

From the Class of 1943, the alumnae are Alene Agens

Burns, Amelda Virginia Chadwick Price (deceased), Mary Augusta Drew Arnold, Margie Mary Elliott Duff, Iris Mae Lang Richardson, Margie Irene Greene Wright, Mary Margaret Schmidt McMillian, Florence Irene Swanner Eberle, Eunice Rose Tudury Krupa, Irma Ruth Tudury Sharp, Raye Anne Vairin Chestnut and Martha Angelo Xidix Dedicos.

St. Joseph Academy began in 1855 when three Sisters of St. Joseph of Bourgo reached Our Lady of the Gulf in Bay St. Louis, then under the pastorate of Father Stanislaus Buteux who had gone to France for the sole purpose of obtaining Sisters for his parish. St. Joseph Academy was the first foundation of the Sisters of St. Joseph in America.

The Sisters of St. Joseph closed the Academy in 1967, and two years later Hurricane Camille did extensive damage to the building which was later demolished. The SJA gym burned in 1988.

Our Lady Academy was founded in 1971 by Monsignor Gregory Johnson, then pastor of OLG, to provide Catholic education for young ladies at the high school level and to continue the tradition of SJA.

OLA enrollment has increased over 50 students in the last two years. A new educational building, consisting of six large classrooms, is being built and will open in August.

Diboll Private Foundation makes gift of plaza to school

Special to the Echo History once again is brought to the fore at St. Stanislaus with the completion of the Diboll Heritage Plaza at the center of the campus.

A gift of the Collins Cerre Diboll Private Foundation, the plaza will be formally dedicated September 30, 1993.

Collins C. Diboll Jr., a noted New Orleans architect, was the son of the architect who designed the 1903 St. Stanislaus school building which was seriously damaged by Hurricane Camille in 1969. The current school building was completed in 1971, replacing the historic 1903 edifice.

In addition to the cornerstone which is mounted on a small pedestal, the plaza has a bronze statue of the Sacred Heart and five granite benches. The statue originally was placed in front of the Sacred Heart Chapel, a former residence of the school's first principal, Rev. St. Louis.

Heitzmann, '66 St. Stanislaus alumnus, was the contractor. The granite benches were furnished by J. E. Loiacano, '60 SSC alumnus, and Hancock Monument Company. The cornerstone will be topped with a large bronze plaque, designating the plaza as a gift of the foundation. The plaque will also include an image of the 1903 building.

"Collins was the most articulate man I have known," said Donald Diboll, "The Diboll Heritage Plaza at St. Stanislaus will provide pleasure to the Brothers, faculty and students. We trustees are happy to provide this connection with the past of St. Stanislaus."

Brother Paul Montero, president of St. Stanislaus, commented, "We are grateful to the Collins C. Diboll Private Foundation for this generous gift. The plaza will enhance the beauty of our campus while serving as a link between our rich history and our present."
